Manitou Lake Telephone Co Annual Meeting

The third annual meeting of the shareholder of the Manitou Lake Telephone Co., was held in the Brady school on Wednesday, January 19th. Quite a number of the shareholders were present and took a lively interest in the meeting.

The following reports were submitted: Treasurer's, Auditor's and that of the Secretary. After being reviewed were finally adopted. The report of the secretary brought up many points for discussion from which several suggestions were left in the hands of the new board of directors. Among these could be mentioned the following:

In matter of threshing machines breaking the telephone line, the owner must temporarily repair the line at once and immediately notify the central operator, who shall report on the repair and charge such owner of thresher any expenses incurred thereby.

Unpaid telegrams must be paid at close of this meeting, and in future no telegram will be allowed to remain unpaid over thirty days. The by-law regarding such to be enforced. In the matter of batteries supplied only one pair to be given free each year to each shareholder.

Mr. W. Spence is to be allowed preference to anyone else on the phone for mail purposes only.

By-law governing three minutes as a limit on talks through central to be enforced.

The ten cent fee as heretofore collected by the company to be abolished. The switchboard to be put in first-class condition and one extra set of keys to be added to same.

Long distance to be arranged with Butze.

Owners of lands where they were not in residence on this line to be asked to allow phones to be removed from such.

A book or books of certificates of shares to be procured and one given to each shareholder.

The status of a shareholder came up for discussion. It was felt that distinction should be made between the man who paid $5.00 in as payment of a share and at present had no phone and on the other hand the man who had paid the required fee of $5.00 but as yet was not a phoneholder. Suggestion was finally made that no application for a shareholder's Certificate be accepted until passed on by directors.

(1) The feeling of the meeting apparently was for a return to the old hours previous to the past year. So it was submitted that central be open till 9 p.m. each week day.

(m) As regards the appointment of Central operator the same to be left in the hands of the new Board.

In addition a suggestion was made made for automatic phones but on the almost prohibitive cost being considered it was dropped for present. Apparently some shareholders felt that the telephone tax was too high but it was shown by the Board that in comparison with other up to date phone systems the Company was getting service cheaper than any other case cited.

All other business being concluded nomination of Directors took place followed by election of such. The result of the poll showed that Messrs Jas. Loy, John Paterson, J. W. Coe Messrs H. B. Polkinghorne, E. Reichelt make an exceptionally strong board for 1921. All business being at an end an adjournment was made.

The new board met immediately after Mr James Loy was again elected chairman. Mr Geo. Lawson was pressed to again assume the offices of secretary-treasurer but refused.

The board adjourned to meet again on Tuesday, January 25th

On Thesday the board met with all members present. The position of central operator was their first business. Mr John A. Proctor submitted an application to the board for the position and after some time was spent in arranging details Mr Proctor was engaged for one year dating from February 1st at the rate of $135 per month. Previous to his engagement the board had agreed that no special action regarding by law governing time limit through central be taken. In the matter of overtime calls there is to be a charge of 25c, same to be payable to central.

The board had in the past year had verbal complaints to contend with which never took any definite form.

Now decided that all future complaints must be sent in writing to the secretary.

The board now considered the several suggestions given at the annual meeting. The board took advantage of many of the suggestions and passed them either in their old form or with slight modifications. Regarding switchboard, the directors made a ruling for two extra sets of keys instead of one. Regarding the status of a shareholder two very important motions were passed: (a) No money be accepted by the company as payment of a share or shares unless said company is in a position to immediately instal a phone; (b) All applications for instalment of phone must be accompanied by a fee of $5.00 as a guarantee of good faith, said fee to be applied as payment on share or shares immediately on installation of phone. The above motions should do away with any future controversy on this matter.

Regarding long distance, the board do not consider it as to the general public benefit to link up with Butze but the secretary will make every effort to link up with long distance through Senlac. Every pressure will be brought to bear on the department of telephones with this end in view.

The matter of removing phones from non-residents premises, and an application to install eleven phones in circuit seven were to be left in abeyance.

The Board after insisting very strongly that Geo. Lawson remain Secretary for another year at former salary.

During the past year the Company has greatly appreciated the many acts of courtesy of Mr. Hilker our genial station agent at Artland. Mr. Hilker has been very obliging and has sacrificed a great deal of his time to accomodate the shareholders and others.

The Directors instructed the Secretary a vote of appreciation by them for the services he has rendered the Company. I may mention here that Mr. Hilker's hours in the future are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Any calls sent into the station either before or after these hours will positively not be answered. Mr. Hilker has book work of his own to attend to and shareholders can't expect to intrude on the hours he is not on duty. In case of an urgent call such as sickness Mr. Hilker will be pleased to assist the central in getting any necessary assistance. After passing several bills the Directors adjourned to meet at the call of the President.

We regret to report that Mrs. A. S. Campbell has received a severe paralytic stroke.

Stanmore Y. P. & W. L. A. Give A Splendid Concert

The Westminster Ladies Y.P. and the Young People of Stanmore put on a good program at the concert in the Oddfellows Hall, last Friday night.

Mrs A. E. Keith and Mr. McNutt opened the program with a vocal duet entitled 'Excelsior'. Harold Foxwell then contributed a song, followed by Mrs G. McNutt with 'Dear Little Shamrock' in which some of the audience joined in the chorus. 'The Monks of Old' by T. H. Saul was followed by an encore 'Margarite'.

A short comedy entitled 'Jonathan and Belinda' performed by the Young People of Stanmore, was then staged in a commendable manner. The plot was full of interesting episodes which gripped the attention of the audience from start to finish. The various characters being well presented by the actors. The cast being:

Elizabeth Brown; Florence Scott; Annie Brown; Eleanor Harris; Belinda Jane Hopkins; Dorothy Carter

Jonathan Scruggins; Sydney Harris; Squire Brown; Walter Scott; Augustus Simroy; Maxwell Scott; Harry Clifton; Eric Carter; Policemen: Chris. Mathieson and Edgar Scott

Mrs Dr. StJean then contributed a pianoforte solo which drew forth a hearty encore; as did the vocal duet 'Where are you going to, my pretty maid?' by Harold Foxwell and Belma Villa. Mrs Keith contributed another song and a duet by Mrs H. N. Freeman and Miss Godin, 'Tis the End, so Farewell' and singing by all present of the National Anthem brought the pleasant program to an end.

St. Andrew Society Celebrate Burns Nicht At Chauvin

Around seven o'clock on the night of the 25th of January the peaceful town of Chauvin showed no undue excitement over the fact that the cycle of the seasons had again brought round the birthday of Scotland's favorite bard, Bobbie Burns. But as the hands of the clock crept nearer eight the scene was changed. The voice of Scot greeting Scot in all the different accents of the Land o' Cakes fra' Aberdeen awa'—the bonnie own Ayrshire,—home of honest men, and bonnie lassies,—multiplied and grew, till by eight o'clock even the most indifferent pedestrian couldn't help being aware that 'The Scot was abroad the nicht.' From the Saskatchewan border to Provost in the south, they poured into town to celebrate the Immortal Memory.

The Oddfellows Hall, where the gathering was held was gay with the emblems and symbols of Scotland—the lion rampant,—the St. Andrew's cross—and of course the histle! Last but not least a picture of Robbie himself graced the scene.

Shortly after eight o'clock over persons sat down to supper, which with the exception of the haggis (the work of Mrs. Jeff Swan) was purveyed in real style by our popular local purveyor, Mr. Clifton. The dish of honor in three parts preceded by the bagpipes playing the merry strains of 'Here was a lad was born in Kyle' was carried to the table by Mrs. Arch Muir of Provost, the proceedings got underway in fine style.

After the dinner, which was a credit to those who purveyed, and served alike,—being run without a hitch in spite of many disadvantages—President Jas Guthrie in response to Mr. A. Taylor's toast of the Immortal Memory, delighted the assembled Scots with an address which without being lengthy touched on those outstanding characteristics of Robbie which as man and poet had endeared him to the hearts of his countrymen, and had given to his memory the halo of immortality. As a native son of Ayrshire he spoke with the advantage which such a circumstance gives one, of knowing one's subject thoroughly, understandingly and sympathetically.

The programme was as follows:—

Toast, The King—Pres J. Guthrie

Response,—Vice-Pres. A. Taylor

Toast The Imortal Memory of

Robbie Burne—Pres. J. Guthrie

Address—Pres. Jas. Guthrie

Song, O' wert Thou in the cauld

Toast, Canada—J. A. McKenzie.

Response—Jas. Ferguson.

Song, Gaelic Air—Mrs. H. Freeman

Recitation, To The Unco' Guid—G.

Recitation, The Holy Fair—Reeve

At the end of the programme the tables having been cleared, the bagpipes again appeared on the scene and beginning with the Grand March were indulged in till the wee cma' hours of the morning were getting well grown.

At intervals Messrs McKenzie, Mas-son, Beattie, and Muir favored the company with songs and recitations with the genuine Scotch flavor. The evening ended with Auld Lang Syne sung as only Scots can sing it, and the company broke up resolved to do the same all over again, in a year's time. Thus endeth the second anniversary.

Joint Meeting Of Chauvin, Butzeville School Trustees

Joint meeting of the Trustees of Chauvin and Butzeville School Districts on January 26th 1921.

Present: Chauvin, Dr. Folkins

Mrs. Saul, and Mr. Foxwell

Butzeville, Messrs Lambert and Goodall.

Mrs Saul moved, Mr. Foxwell seconded, that Dr. Folkins preside at this joint meeting. carried. Dr. Folkins then took the chair.

Chairman explained that the purpose of the meeting was to ascertain if it was possible for the two districts concerned to arrange some co-operative plan for the accommodation of the Butzeville pupils at the Chauvin schools if the Butzeville district was not ready to build in the near future. Dr. Folkins then called for the report of the committee; and Mr. Foxwell reported that the committee had recommended that the Chauvin School to hold a special meeting; and at said meeting the Chauvin Board had come to the following decision:—that if accommodation was provided for the outside pupils and should it be found necessary to engage a third teacher, which seemed likely in that event provided that Butzeville District would contribute one half of the additional teacher's salary, a feasible plan could then be entered into.

For Butzeville, Messrs Lambert and Goodall reported that there would not be any more pupils coming from their district than at present; and their Board would be willing to make arrangements for the transportation of Mr. Mansells children to Airlie, and Mr. Fahner's children to Chauvin. That they would not care to undertake more than $16 for each ratepayers family attending Chauvin Schools, but they had requested the School Inspector to come down and investigate the matter with them.

Dr. Folkins and Mrs. Saul expressed the opinion that the better plan would be for the children to continue in attendance at Chauvin for the present, so long as we had seating room, and wait until the Inspector had made his inspection. Mr. well concurred, and the matter was so left.

Keeping Up The Supply Of Milk During The Winter

(Experimental Farm Note)

How to keep up the winter flow is a problem confronting a great many dairymen, more so in sections where the temperature is severe than in the milder climate of British Columbia. Invariably the price of milk goes up in the fall and down in the spring and just as untiringly the supply drops in the fall and increase in the spring. This makes it important from a financial viewpoint that the winter milk supply be kept up. Usually farm labor is more plentiful in the winter, as no crops have to be grown and narrowed and extra attention can more easily be given the dairy cow. One of the first requisites if a heavy winter milk flow is good cows. The cows should be capable of heavy production in winter if given the proper attention. There may be some excuse for keeping poorer cows in the summer on grass where pasture is not considered of value and any returns from the cows are profit, but winter feed costs money and a cow must produce milk to more than pay for feed or else be sacrificed.

Some system of breeding the cows must be followed so that all the cows do not freshen in the spring or summer. The spring calving system is permissible, even compulsory, among range cattle where the cows raise their calves during the spring and summer and wean them in the fall, but to keep up the milk supply from the dairy cows in the winter a good percentage of them must freshen in the fall. Many of the cows making the best records at the present time freshen in the fall or early winter. By so doing the bulk of the milk is given at the time of the year when heat and flies do not tend to retard production.

Another very important factor in connection with the winter milk yield is the feeding. Some good cows capable of high production do not get the proper feed in the fall and so ease off in their milk flow. In the autumn, just before the pastures get dry, some stimulating feed should be provided. This can be done by the use of soiling crops, Green corn is excellent, peas and oats, roots, or any of the common soiling crops are good

For ease of feeding and general results summer silage is very valuable for this purpose. If the cows have been receiving grain during the summer a little increase is advisable at this time. Usually if cows are well fed in the summer and early fall they will keep up their milk during the winter, water and salt and good feed are necessary.

Of all domestic animals dairy cattle will respond the most readily to good treatment. In their general management too much cannot be done especially in the fall and winter months. They should be housed in comfortable but not necessarily elaborate quarters. The barn should be warm well lighted and have plenty of fresh air. Grooming is advisable. Regularity in milking and feeding goes a long way toward producing the desirable quantity of milk when the returns are at their greatest.

Weather Signs

Why is it that so many people know nothing apparently of weather signs and are unable to make a reasonable forecast of the weather for a day or two? There are weather signs in plenty. Take harness, for instance. If you find the harness wet and mucky or sticky, look out for a storm within two or three days. If the storm is light and the harness continues wet, be ready for another storm, the weather hasn't settled. The northern lights shining bright is a sign of good weather. When the western horizon at sunset is very red and spotted, a storm is sure to follow next day. A milky grey sky at sunset is a sign of high winds next day. These are just a few signs. are many more if one would take the trouble to study them out.

Of course the western farmer is not inclined to have much regard for manufacturers, and any suggestion that they are now trying to take advantage of a comparative monopoly of the western market, secured for them by the protective tariff might be a little uncharitable, well, or make any such suggestion.

A local actress suggests that in order to encourage thrift people ought to set aside one cent on the first day of January, two cents on the second of February, three cents on the third of March and so on till December. We were going to adopt this plan too but unfortunately mislaid our initial copper on New Year's day and hate to start the scheme in arrears.

The Dominion parliament for the first time in its history will open on a Monday, the government in this gentle way indicating without doubt that the members are expected to give one entire week's work for one week's pay.

Seed & Poultry Show Announced

A Seed Fair and Poultry show will be held by the Chauvin Agricultural Society in the Oddfellow Hall, Chauvin, on Saturday February 26th.

The committee in charge have prepared an thoroughly up-to-date list of classes, providing for competition in the most desirable varieties for present local needs. They are also providing facilities for buying and selling seed grain.

The Alberta government will send down speakers to address the gathering during the afternoon.

A detailed list of rules and regulations, together with a list of classes and prizes offered will be published in the columns of this paper.

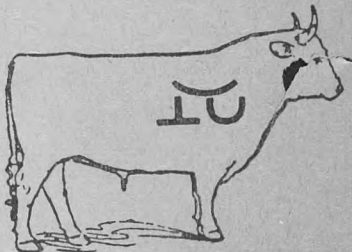

Tasteless preparation of Cod Liver Oil season is again on; and as in the former winter seasons, we are recommending that you take from one to three bottles. Those who have taken our advice in former years have found that prevention of sickness is cheaper and more convenient than cure—The same old price $1.00 per bottle, at the Chauvin Pharmacy.

Beaver Farm At Edgerton

Edgerton Farmer Believes He Has A Sure Money Maker In Beaver Ranch

Undoubtedly one of the most unusual farms in Alberta to-day is a beaver ranch at Edgerton belonging to Mr. F. F. Parkinson. On his fur farm, which is the largest of its kind in the west, over a hundred beavers are being raised, and when they have multiplied sufficiently in number, a portion of them will be trapped and sold for their fur each year. With the exception of another smaller beaver farm at Lacombe, this is the only beaver farm in the west.

Mr. Parkinson's farm is located on the banks of a small creek which has been the home of a colony of beavers ever since he took over the land. They have been multiplying so rapidly that he recently secured the privileges of breeding them and providing feed, and from his observations he is convinced it is a paying proposition and one that will reap him a sure income.

In the portion of the creek in which the beavers live there are seven dams and most of them have been there for some time. In all, he is enclosing an area of fifty acres with woven fencing with the mesh close enough to prevent the smaller beavers from squeezing through. For feed he intends to sow beds of carrots near the water's edge in several places along the stream. It is said they are very fond of this root and will dig up whole fields to satisfy their craving for it. From a standpoint of profit, Mr. Parkinson believes that beaver farming should compare well to wheat farming. On the average, if given the proper conditions, they will more than double their number every year, and with the skins selling at from $40 to $50 each, the beaver farm ought to yield a fair profit.

Investigating Seed Conditions In Alberta

During the past few weeks the seed branch of the department of agriculture has been conducting an investigation into the condition of the crop in regard to its suitability for seed. Samples of seed have been collected from every section of the province and tested. The work is not yet finished but much valuable information has been secured and on the whole it is of a reassuring nature.

Results of the tests so far completed indicate that conditions are considerably better than was anticipated last fall. There are, however, districts not so fortunate as the Ryley district so fortunate as the Chauvin district suitable for seed purposes.

Following two such seasons as 1918-1919, it becomes imperative that every farmer carefully test the germinating power of the grain he proposes to use for seed next spring. If one kind of grain may be singled out for special mention, that grain is oats; for while oat kernels show less sign of frost damage than other grain, their germinating power is more easily affected by frost.

The month of March is the best time to lay the foundation for good crops by getting seed of the very best quality and purity, and varieties suited to soil and climate. Here is the one place in raising a crop where the bare expenditure of money will do as much towards a successful harvest as will many long hours of labor in the hot sun later on. A few cents seemingly saved in the spring by buying cheaper seed will result many times in a multiplied loss at harvest. If there is one thing which it does pay to get the best, it is garden and field seeds.

Neither does it pay to ignore new varieties, for the grower of improved grains can always depend upon getting a premium for his seed. The best course, it seems, is to test out the new varieties that seem most likely to succeed, in a small way at first.

One may test his seed at home, and get four different results. That, however, does not prove that testing is useless. On the contrary, the average of those four results will prove the value of the grain in question for seed purposes.

Anyone can satisfactorily test his seed at home if he will. On the other hand, there is the seed testing laboratory at the Vermilion school of agriculture, where seed is tested free of charge, by experts. It is only necessary to send a few ounces, in an ordinary envelope. The name and address of sender should be on the package, addressed to School of Agriculture, Vermilion, Alta.

The total yield of wheat in Canada for 1920 is now finally returned as 263,189,300 bushels from 18,232,274 acres as compared with 93,260,400 bushels from 19,125,968 acres in 1919 and with 254,480,440 bushels from 16,324,969 acres, the annual average for the five years of 1915-1919.

The average yield of wheat, per acre, was 14 1-2 bushels as against 10 bushels in 1919 and 15 1-2 bushels, the five year average. ## Three Cornered Contest Probable At Medicine Hat

A three-cornered contest is not improbable in the by-election in Medicine Hat made vacant by the death of the late A. L. Sifton, which election must be filled before six months. The United Farmers of Alberta seem determined to place a man in the field while the Liberals and the Conservatives are both inclined to enter the contest. There is a bare possibility of a labor candidate also in the running, that is not regarded as probable.

This will be the first by-election in Alberta, since the election in 1917, and the first contest since the farmers decided upon political action. The U.F.A. members say that the riding is better organized for them than any other riding in the province. A convention of the political organization will be held at the Hat on March 24th for the purpose of nominating a candidate to contest the seat.

Local Bonspiel

Chauvin's local bonspiel. "Bigger and Better Than Ever."

To date, MacDonald's men have proved themselves to be the dark horses, after he played last night's game, Jeff Swan was heard to play "Lochaber No More" on his bagpipes.

The big game so far was between Code and Swan, both rinks were in form and the play was a treat to watch. Jeff took the long end of a 11 to 8 score.

Hank Quam has started to tell the boys how he learned to guard a rock

So far George Allan has been specializing on the 9 a.m. draw, however George says its great pickings to trim up a rink before breakfast is over.

Freeman is keeping pretty quiet, but he is doing a lot of thinking, it is rumoured that he is keeping "Happy" in shape by making him do two laps around the race track every morning.

It takes more than a beating to shift the smile from Mayor Parcels ruddy face.

Mac forgot his bottle of Tanlac last night, so there is a good excuse for being beat.

The Ladies are doing their bit towards helping to make the bonspiel "Bigger and Better than ever" by serving lunch in the evening, and the players are certainly indebted to them

Now then, all together for a better rink next year.

RIBSTONE RIPPLES

Born—Saturday January 22nd to Mr. and Mrs. Alex Clifford, a son.

On Tuesday night last, a set of farm harness, etc. were taken without leave or license from a farm a mile or so west of town. To date neither the harness or parties taking same have been located but without doubt same will soon be found and guilty ones dealt with, as petty crimes of this nature are becoming too numerous in this district.

CURLING

The final of the Double Knock-out competition between the R. J. Wilde and E. R. Dell rinks, for the Ribstone Trading Co. prize was played off on Wednesday night. The R. J. Wilde rink winning by an easy margin. At no stage of the game were they in any danger of losing the honors, and clearly demonstrated their ability to lay on guard, playing a consistent game from start to finish.

The R. J. Wilde competition which is now in progress bids fair to be one of the best events of the season. The rinks being very nearly matched and some very hard battles are being witnessed.

We understand the Ribstone Curling Club are to be represented at the Edmonton Bonspiel, but just whom the participants will be we have been unable to ascertain.

Mrs Clifford returned last week from Terrace, B.C., and is visiting at the home of her mother Mrs Robert Clifford.

We are pleased to be able to report that fever patients are all up and are around again, and it will be but a short time till quarantine is lifted.

Echoes Of Burns
Ann'versary

Amongst the visitors from the out-lying districts who came to take in the 'Burn's Night,' were Mr and Mrs Scott, Stanmore, the Messrs W. and G. Masson, of Arland and their ladies and Mr Arch. Muir, from the Eyehill Provost district. The visitors proved quite an acquisition to the 'Night' Mr. Masson contributing a humorous recitation, while Mr Muir replied to the toast of the Scots in right royal fashion, besides contributing a recitation. While in the district he was the guest of the Armours at the Leavrigg.

Being in a boastful mood, before it gives way to our usual modesty of manner—ahem!—we'd just like to mention that in the same company that gathered to do honor to Robbie, were representatives of both sexes, of almost all the professions, with a generous sprinkling of what he politicians love to call "The Backbone of Country" Here we pause to ret on several other outstanding brother Scots who might have been there but were merely conspicuous by their absence.

The StAndrew Society wish to tender their best thanks to the young gentlemen, Mr McLaren, whose ver-satile art created for them their be-loved emblems—the thistle and the Scottish Standard—and much regret was expressed that he could not be with the company on the 25th

The decoration committee is to be recommended for the good work they did, and the time they spent making the place look 'home-like'

The society also owes its thanks to Chef Clifford who, in spite of the dis-advantages of the situation served a dinner which showed him to be a master of the art of making and serv-ing a dinner. With his band of wil-ling workers he contributed in a large measure to the success of the even-ing, and we feel glad to know that Chauvin posses in him, a man who aims to serve the public in the wa-the public enjoys being served, and who takes the pleasure of the real chef in doing so.

But when all's said and done, what would a Burn's night be, without Jeff with his bagpipes and Mrs Jeff, to make the haggis? Now don't all speak at once!

SHORT STORIES OF A SOLDIER'S LIFE
AT THE FRONT

THE SOMME SCRAP (SOME OF IT)

As I have said in a previous story, though the Some scrap was not what could be called nice the front was one that is foremost in my memory, this is maybe so because i was on this hard and trying fighting front that I received a rather nasty wound.

In this story I mean to cover ground starting with the night of the 25th of September to the night of the 27th of September 1916.

We had been all day in the Mart-impunch front, and were stationed in the farther end of Sausage Valley. During the afternoon I got a notion on a sudden, to roam around looking for souvenirs and started toward the front line. Crossing The Maple Leaf track I was soon amongst a lot of dead Germans and a various assort-men of war materials from field dressings to rifles.

I was poking about among the dif-ferent likely places to find something and was thinking that my trip was all to no good when I spied a rather long bayonet on a German rifle, it was certainly one of the old brigade for it was thin and double edged as well as being rather longer han any of the other of the different bayonets. But what was most delightful to me was that it was still shining and in good order on the blade. I tried to get it off the rifle and was struck right away for it was rusted on there. and I had to get another rifle and give it a few good knocks before it would some off. Well I got it off to my satisfaction and was waltzing around with it nn my hand sticking it a all sorts of things and using it as a poker where I did not want to use my hands. Presently I got rather tired of hunting and looked around me to see where I had wandered to and was surprised to find that I was within a suarter of a mile of Martin-punch. While I was watching the front, my eye was attracted to a flash of a gun in a wood on a slight slope over in the German lines, this gave me a start for a moment for I was rather surprised to see a gun flash so plainly, and I began to curse my self for having left my maps and my compass behind at the funkhole.

The thought that I could get the lo-cation of the gun if I had had my map and compass, had hardly passed through my head when I heard the that was coming in my general id-hurry I saw a small shell hole near, into which I lost no time in getting. just about 20 yards away from me and it was in a direct line for me. Well as soon as the pieces had sift-ed through I started for a trench that was a 100 yords away to the rear another one of the shells dropt where I had just vasated and then there was another one right after that, all ground shells. By this time I had worked myself up to the left of the trench old Heinie then finished the job by putting five shrapnel over where the ground shells had dropt. Well this was a puzzler to me and I sat down there and waited for a while for things to get a little settled before I started for home on the double.

I started back after waiting maybe ten minutes there thinking things over and arriving at the happy home I found that the field kitchens that hadbeen half a mile farther down the valley had been drawn out and that there was now some 181bers in the place of them, that meant cold meals for the rest of the trip and I hought to myself that by the general look of things there was going to be some-thing doing for us that trip in the tery of 4.1's pulled in and took up position 75 yards behind where we were stopping. After a few minutes there they started firing and the con-cussion from them at that distance in front was not in the least a thing that anyone would fancy to have if his nerves were on the rocks. It was just getting dark when Ma-of the small trench we were in and lone and myself stood out on the top started to criticize a battery of 18's that were over on a ridge 300 yards away from us. They had been fir-ing more or less all afternoon and we had just seen a shell, that was rat-her red colored leave one of them. Malone said that they would have to quit soon if they did not want trouble and I had just answered, when the guns right behind again started and gave a salvo for a start, it nearly knocked us off our feet and as the shells passed over something splash-ed into the mud near to us.

Turning to Malone, I said, "We had better get into the holes, that sound-ed like a piece of driving band to me" We had turned to go back and on turning around we saw some of our men running to another fellow who was holding his wrist Then someone shouted for a stretcher bearer and we knew the fellow as hit, so immedi-ately we started to the spot to see who it was. Of course we realized that it was a piece of this driving band for about that time no shell had dropped within half a mile of us. On getting to the fellow, we saw that he was hit through the wrst, and that the piece of band had not gone quite through, the strctcher bearer was pu-ling it out, with a piece of gauze a-round his hand, for the splinter was still hot. The poor fellow howled in more or less pain and said that he was sorry to get hit like that for he wanted to go into the line with his brother who was in the same section. The sequel to this was that the next day his brother got killed in action. Had he a premonition that his bro-ther was in danger? We all thought so afterwards.

(To be continued in our next)

Expansion Period Is now Due In Hog Production

Consumption of bacon and pork products for this year estimated at 40 per cent in excess of probable production; freight, duty and depreciated currency which combine to put a stiff tax on imported products; widespread lack of interest in hogs with steadily diminishing holdings of breeding stock, are bringing about a condition that can have but one result, keen demand and comparatively high prices for hogs.

We are at the beginning of a boom in hog production. Next fall, all being well, should see the movement well under way, breeding stock in demand, commercial markets favorable and a general change in feeling among producers.

Periods of expansion in an industry start invariably when public interest is at the lowest ebb. Interest in hogs is at the lowest ebb it has ever been in these provinces. Demand for pork and other conditions equally important are operating to bring about a unique situation in the hog business. Nothing can stop a great expansion movement in hogs this year and next.

We believe the time has come for producers to look at the facts of the situation and prepare to take advantage of future developments. This is the period of accumulation, when breeding stock should be acquired and the foundation laid for a business later.

We have been bearish on hogs for three years, but the time has now come for reasonable expansion. Our advice is to get hold of pigs, breed such sows as you have, buy one or two more if they can be got, have pigs to sell this year and next.

Size up the situation for what it is and for what you can get out of it. Pigs are going to pay, and early February will not be too late to breed a sow or two as a start.

That expansion will be followed by reaction is inevitable. Hogs will slump as a result of over-production when the movement now starting is completed. But that contingency can be faced when it comes. The present marks a turn in the industry that is the breeder's and producer's opportunity.

Activity In Farm lands Business Expected Soon

Just as soon as the snow leaves the land, there will be a general and widespread activity in the selling and buying of lands in the Chauvin district. That, at any rate, is the expectation of local real estate dealers.

The fact that the whole countryside is still under its winter blanket has meant that practically nothing has been done for some time past in the way of farm purchases by outside people. Investors from the eastern provinces and western states are holding off, it is stated, until they can see the land, few being disposed to buy while the snow still covers the land.

However, buyers who know the district and what is beneath the blanket have trafficked extensively during the winter. The purchasers in nearly every case have been local men, who, during the coming summer will break as much as possible and crop the land the following spring.

Finished Livestock Is Logical Basis Of Farming Success

More than a billion dollars are invested in Canadian livestock. The other industries of the Dominion taken singly, no matter how important, fall by comparison with our animal industry. The whole fabric of our national prosperity rests, and will rest in still greater measure as the years pass, on our farm animals. The fact is so patent, so obvious that on its apt to overlook its real value.

With a growing proportion of our population in the cities and towns, it should be repeated and reiterated that farming is the bedrock on which alone the rest can be made strong and stable and that livestock is the foundation of permanence in farming.

For it is a permanent investment. It is becoming more and more plain that if the Dominion is to retain its predominance in agriculture, it will be through an expansion of its livestock. The possibilities of wheat "mining" on virgin soil have already reached their limit. Intensive livestock farming, which in other words means the marketing of farm produce in concentrated form, more especially on the hoof, has become a public policy even in the prairie provinces.

It is something which cannot be visualized, yet the function of livestock is vital to national life. This is well recognized in the older lands of Europe with a thousand years of forming tradition behind them. Livestock is the key to the maintenance of soil fertility. It is through the return of the manure to the fields that humus is added to the top soil by which it is improved beyond its virgin state. Under present conditions in Canada, only by an extension of animal breeding on each farm can the requisite amount of humus and plant food be obtained.

Livestock properly fed and fostered carries the farmers' work through primary into secondary production possesses. Stock is taken young or lean, and is, by intelligent feeding, is transformed into prime beef or pork—the most concentrated, highly finished product and the best paying which can leave any farm.

Indolence is a sort of suicide.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

Fourth Annual SEED FAIR and
RULES

1. All exhibitors must be members of Chauvin Agricultural Society.

2. All seeds entered for competition must have been grown in the year 1920 by the exhibitor, who must have for sale at least 50 bushels in the classes for wheat, oats, and barley; 25 bushels for flax, and rye; and 5 bushels for potatoes.

3. In classes 1 to 11 inclusive one bushel of seed shall be shown; in classes 12 to 15, one-half bushel. All exhibits of seed shall be held to be representative of the total quantity of such seed offered for sale by the exhibitor.

4. No premium shall be awarded on exhibits that contain impurities, in the opinion of the judge, are of noxious nature.

5. No exhibitor shall receive more than one prize in any class.

6. All samples of seed must be labelled, after judging, with the name and address of the exhibitor, the name of the variety, the amount of seed for sale and selling price.

7. The committee in conjunction with the judges reserve the right to debar any exhibit on which, in their judgment, a prohibitive price is placed.

8. Any exhibitor making entry under any of the above classes thereby guarantees that his exhibit is a fair sample of the seed he has for sale and that the said sample has only been cleaned through a fanning mill not more than twice, and furthermore with particular reference to oats, that nothing has been done that would come under the head of "clipping" "blanketing" rubbing," etc.

9. Before prizes are paid, each exhibitor will be required to certify that his exhibit strictly complies with regulation. In case of failure to do so the next in order will be awarded the prize.

10. In the event of less than three entries in any class, first or other prizes will only be awarded at the discretion of the judge.

11. Poultry exhibits shall consist of two females and one male. Ducks, Geese and Turkeys, one each.

12. All poultry must be exhibited in tight bottom crates, such that the judge may be able to remove the birds

13. In the event of more than three entries in any chicken class, a championship of $3.00 will be given

10. Potatoes may be selected.

11. All exhibits for competition for prices must be at I. O. O. F. Hall, Chauvin, not later than 11 a.m., on Saturday, February 26th, 1921, and shall not be removed until the close of the fair.

NO CLEARANCE FOR NORTH BY NY ROUTE BUT THE POLICE

The only way to get into the north this coming spring and summer, will be to qualify for, secure, and carry clearance papers from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. There will be no such thing as booking passage without them, and there will be no open door into the oil country on any other terms.

The new regulations imposed by to any whose physical condition is the Dominion authorities will be rigidly enforced, it is stated. The provisions of both the health and entry ordinances, will be carried to the letter, as will the most recent ruling providing that every northbound traveller must be medically examined.

In the nature of things the new regulations will apply particularly to passengers by the air route, and it is the intention of the authorities to insist upon a strict adherence to the rule No flying machine of any kind will be permitted to leave for the Mackenzie territory without clearing the police or without each of its passengers being certified by a medical officer as physically and mentally fit to make the trip.

While the regulations apply equally to passage by steamer or in any other way the necessity of medical examination in case of an air flight is regarded as all the greater because of the severer tests upon the travelers vitality and heart action. In such cases it is therefore intended to make a careful examination of each would-be passenger and to refuse permission to any whose physical condition is such as to make an air trip at high speed imprudent.

Paint Protection
vs. DECAY

Any surface that is covered with Glidden Endurance Paint is well covered and will not decay easily, for Glidden protection is good protection and saves the cost of frequent repairs.

Glidden Endurance Paint prevents decay, keeps out moisture from the wood and resists wear from changing weather conditions without scaling or cracking.

Glidden Endurance Paint stays fresh and bright for a long time, weats well and looks well—and because of its durability is the cheapest paint you can buy.

For everything about the home or farm that needs to be painted, stained, enameled, varnished or finished in any way, there is a Glidden product made especially for that purpose.

We have them. Color cards free.

PRINTING IS A PART OF LIFE

YOU open your favorite newspaper—and flaring head lines thrill you with the news that a king is dead, a city burned, a law repaled! PRINTING has added one more to the countless cameo-sharp impressions that it has made all through your life. Hark, back, in fancy, to the days of your childhood and consider the pictures that stand out most clearly in Memory's gallery. Intermingled with the recollection of juvenile joys and sorrows, do you not find the stories and songs that PRINTING gave you then? Robinson Crusoe—Gulliver's Travels—The Arabian Nights—did not these and other stories create a deep and lasting impression?

Not a day passes but PRINTING plays an important part in your business or personal affairs. It brings you word of what others are doing, and it carries the message of your business, your merchandise, to those you wish to interest.

And the message of your printing is vivid just in proportion as it is properly presented.

How important, then, that your printing be handled by a printer who knows! Who can so combine type and ink and paper as to make just the right impression on the people that you want to reach and convince.
